

Ben Nicholson, 1939 (painted relief)

Ben Nicholson has used a limited range of colours with some that 'pop' out. He has also used different thicknesses of paper and card so that the picture has a more dimension effect.

How many shapes can you see? Can you name them?

Collect some coloured papers and cards together

Cut them into squares and rectangles of different sizes

Place them on a plain sheet of paper

Overlap and move the shapes around until you are happy with your layout

Stick the shapes down to create your own collage
